

Hi,

Emily Rhodes called today for some advice in relation to some injuries she had suffered last year. She said she was prompted to seek legal advice when an old friend, who is a legal secretary, mentioned that she might have a personal injury claim.

She also mentioned that a doctor had mistreated her in the past and wants them to be held accountable. She seemed a bit shaken up. I've booked a meeting room for 30 minutes.

Thanks,
Britney
